Edwards, Howard, charge Bay Pigs: Not indexed in The Bay of Pigs, Espionage Establishment or Invisible Government. If he in Chilean jail 3/71, hard to Watergate in US. It would seem to be more foolish than the arrogant would be to send an identifiabl Pigger to any LA country in a clandestine operation because they are all known. But if true, his Pig name could not have been edwards. Too many of them soured and sang. HW 3/12/73

This refers to copy of clipping sent you, NYTimes 17 Mar 71, "Chile Increasingly Blames 'International Conspiracy' for Woes."

I was looking for something else when I came across this, and was torn between not sending a copy (not good enough) and sending (because of the tantalizing echoes of other names, connections and places). Wasn't pointing at anyone but the name sounds like one which might have been dreamed up for a colleague.

Did note the date Mr. Edwards was in jail, but perhaps with "a cardiac infection" he might not have had to stay very long? We have no follow-up on this story - or, I should say, this particular part of it - and have no idea what happened to him. Also can't remember when the one I'm not pointing at was supposed to have taken the last job mentioned in his biography, and not worth taking the time now to check it.
